Organic Certifications of the Ingredient we use in our products sourcing the best ingredients we could find from all around the world.

Each and every ingredient we use are carefully selected, making sure that they are in their most natural form without being overly processed to keep its nutrients and benefits for our skin. We use organic, sprayfree, or wild harvested ingredients, DO NOT support GMO and we always stand strong with our integrity of adding only natural and non synthetic ingredients in our products.

There are thousands variety of plants in Nature that we admire and treasure. In t.o.n, we try our very best to source the best species of its kind for gentleness and therapeutic purposes on skin.

Why Organic and sprayfree? The answer is simple as it is the natural way of growing without being polluted by chemically engineered fertilizers, pesticides and above all, it is not genetically modified. This way of cultivation deliver the best nutrients and benefits of plant to our skin and body.

We also prefer wild harvested plant ingredients as it means that the plant is grown naturally in the wild without any interference from human cultivation. Some of the most powerful medicinal properties are found in wild harvested plants. Hence, it is also our intention to source these plants for their amazing healing properties.

We do understand the effect of importing goods from all around the world that increase our carbon footprint. Thus, we source locally available nature goodness, such as plant oils, fruits, flowers, and herbs for a more sustainable production. Above all, we practice the habits of reuse, reduce and recycle in our lab.

When we have completed knowing the way of cultivation for our ingredients, the next condition that we would give a tick is the plant oil extraction methods. About 80 percent of the total ingredients we use are oils, hence, it is our goal to source oils that are raw, cold pressed, unrefined and unpolluted. All these methods preserve the nutrients in the oil without taking away its beneficial properties. The result is getting high quality oils in our skin care.

Another important condition that we care about is the company that supply our ingredients. It is very important that they are Fairtrade, do not test on animals, ethically and sustainably sourced without causing destruction to the wildlife habitat. Last but not least, animal SHOULD NEVER BE TESTED on behalf of human for products that SUSPECT/ MAY cause harm.

And that is our way of being true to Nature, true to our natural skin care products. Thank you!
